Campaign against Pollution `Red Light On, Gaadi off`

Dear Parents

Greetings!

Air pollution has many effects on the health of both children and adults. Over the past several years incidents of number of diseases has increased greatly, especially in metro cities. Asthma is perhaps the most common disease now followed by allergic reactions, bronchitis and respiratory infections. Old age people, pregnant women and children are susceptible to effects of air pollution than anyone.

Aiming at curbing air pollution, the Delhi government has launched a new campaign Red light On, Gaadi off"

Nearly 1 Crore vehicles including car, motorcycle & scooters etc. are registered in Delhi. These vehicles unnecessarily burn petrol on red lights for 15 – 20 minutes daily. The smoke emitting from the vehicles during the idling period on a traffic light pushes up pollution enormously. If the driver switches off the engine at every traffic light, he can reduce pollution and save fuel every day.

I hope all of you will be wholeheartedly involved in this campaign and I request everyone – parents, teachers also students to join the campaign."
